

CABINS

Written and Photographed by
RALPH KYLLOE

INTRODUCTION

I've wanted to do a book on waterfront homes for a long time, and this book is indeed a collection of rustic homes that are situated on lakes, rivers or ponds. However, it is difficult to see this in most of the photographs because trees often obstruct views of the water from the houses.

Although for centuries humans lived near water mostly for subsistence purposes, in our day water is piped everywhere and even desert communities thrive, thanks to this precious resource.

